Slavery at Jefferson's Monticello: Paradox of Liberty

A groundbreaking and widely acclaimed exhibition with a powerful message, Slavery at Jefferson's Monticello: Paradox of Liberty is here at the African American Museum, Dallas at Fair Park (3536 Grand Ave.) through January 21, 2019. MonticelloinDallas.com.

Due to popular demand, the groundbreaking Slavery at Jefferson's Monticello: Paradox of Liberty traveling exhibition has been extended through January 21, 2019, closing on Martin Luther King Jr. Day.

Dallas is the first city to host the updated touring exhibition, which brings to life the story of slavery at Monticello through more than 300 objects, works of art, documents and artifacts unearthed at the storied plantation. The exhibition features new items never seen outside of Monticello, including a special feature on Sally Hemings, one of the most famous African American women in American history. As an enslaved woman at the age of 16, Hemings negotiated with one of the most powerful men in the nation ensuring she would receive "extraordinary privileges" and achieve freedom for her children. Jefferson fathered at least six children with Hemings, four of whom survived to adulthood. Discounted tickets are available from your Concierge that are half price: $5.00 for adults (regularly $10) and $2 for children (regularly $4.00).
